Withdrawal by the Organizer:

This travel package is provided for a defined number of participants, that is: minimum 6 (six) and maximum 20 (twenty) people. The organizer reserves the unilateral and unquestionable right to cancel the organization of the package and of the related services if the minimum number of 6 (SIX) participants is not reached. Any failure to reach the minimum number necessary to make the trip will be communicated to tourists who have booked at least 14 (fourteen) days before the scheduled departure date.

Contract assignment (ex Art. 39 of the Tourism Code):

The traveler may be replaced by a third person in the relationships arising from the contract, provided that:

- a. the traveler notifies the travel organizer or the intermediary in writing up to 7 (seven) days prior to the journey that he is unable to use the travel package and the data of the third person;
- b. third person fulfils all conditions for the use of the services (pursuant to art. 39 of the Tourism Code), and specifically regard passport, visas and medical certifications;
- c. all, or part of, the services requested are still available consequently to the assignment
- d. the third party should pay for all additional expenses related to the assignment, upon an estimate of expenditure that the tour operator will communicate to him/her previously.

The traveler and the third party are jointly and severally responsible for the payment of the price as well as the costs arising from the assignment.

It is understood that, as per Art. 944 of the Navigation Code, the assignment should be possible only upon the written consent of the vector. For any requests made by the traveler regarding the modification of the travel contract (also in the form of a change of the incentive, change of travel dates, duration, etc.) – are by no means binding for the travel organizer – writing up to 7 (seven) days prior to the journey the travel organizer charge a processing fee of € 300,00 (three hundred euro).

Travel package price adjustment (ex Art. 40 of the Tourism Code):

Price can only be increased subject to the following conditions are changed:

- a) changes in transport costs, including fuel costs;
- b) changes in charges and charges such as landing, embarkation or disembarkation charges in ports and at airports;
- c) changes in exchange rates applied to the travel package concerned.

For these changes, reference is made to the above prices and exchange rates as stated on the date of the publication of the programme as specified in the catalogue or to the date indicated in the abovementioned updates. In any case the price can be changed until 20 days prior to departure and the price increase may in no case exceed 10 (ten) percent of the original price.

Extra optional excursions

The organizer is not liable for any services / transfers / excursions purchased outside of their organization (ie without the intermediary of their representatives or correspondents) regarding disservices or damage to people / things, not being able to guarantee either the quality or the global execution of it.

Pets

Pets are not allowed to participate in the package, nor other types of animals.

Special condition for helicopter transfers

In case of additional option of helicopter transfers, transfers itself will be made by helicopters with a maximum capacity of 5 (five) passengers each.

In the case of bookings by couples only (and not by a group) the last couple, in order of time, which book the package will inevitably travel separately during the transfers (one person on the first helicopter and the other on the second helicopter). For this couple a reduction of the quota for this mode of use is foreseen.

Or, with additional payment, the couple can book another helicopter reserved for two people only.

The Price includes:

1. Travelers' transfers for each step of the Program;
